RESUME OF DAVID JAMES HARR

David J. Harr, LCDR, Supply Corps, United States Navy, was born in Sparta, Wisconsin, on 25 February 1946. He graduated from the University of Wisconsin with senior high honors in 1968 and received the degree of Bachelor of Business Administration. Following graduation he attended the Naval Postgraduate School, Monterey, California, and received the Master of Science degree in Management in 1969. Following selection for participation in the Navy postgraduate education program in 1975, he pursued studies leading to the degree of Doctor of Philosophy in Business at the University of Wisconsin. He received the degree in 1978.

In 1970 he served as Supply Officer on USS DUNCAN (DD-874) and was awarded the Navy Commendation Medal. He served ashore at the Naval Supply Center, San Diego, California, from 1971 through 1972 in the Planning and Comptroller Department. In 1973 he was assigned to USS DIXON (AS-37) where he served as Stores Officer and Inventory Control Officer.

He is a Certified Public Accountant and received the E. Watt Sells award for his performance on the 1972 CPA examination.

His research interests include communication effects in budgeting and the effects of group processes on decision-making.

In January 1978 he joined the faculty of the Naval Postgraduate School, Monterey, California, where he is teaching in the Defense Resources Management Education Center.
